

This week I would like to shine a spotlight on all the wonderful people who do amazing things for our two churches. I couldn't possibly name all the people, partly because I haven't learnt everyone's name yet, but mainly because there are so many people to name. Every time I walk into our churches it is evident how well they are cared for, they are clean, ordered, decorated, and there is always evidence of hospitality. We have many different groups meeting to study the bible, to pray and to reach out to the wider community, and it is done with joy.

On Sunday mornings when I am at church, it is evident the love and care each member of our church family has for one another. On visiting those who are unable to attend due to illness, it is evident how much they are still cared for by their church family.

Of course behind every great team of people there are those who lead and keep things organised, they are the ones who coordinate and enable everything to happen. These leaders are our amazing churchwardens, so this week, when they will have just been sworn in for another year, I say 'Thank You', because we couldn't do it all without you.
